NATIONAL GUIDELINES FOR INTERNSHIP TRAINING OF MEDICAL AND DENTAL OFFICER INTERNS

FOREWORD

Internship training plays a vital role in a doctor's career. This is a legal requirement that allows a practitioner to acquire critical practical skills that cannot be acquired within the precincts of a lecture room. During university training, an individual will acquire scientific knowledge and skills from various avenues.

Internship training therefore provides a platform for the intern to apply the skills learnt in a practical sense under the supervision of a specialist practitioner who is a mentor and a coach. Indeed the attitude of the intern during this period will determine the level of knowledge and skills acquired and subsequently bring out a well-grounded and competent doctor.

The Council has designed a log-book for purposes of standardizing internship training with a particular emphasis on core competencies and skills to be acquired during this period. The report of the assessment is a useful feedback to the council, which determines whether or not an intern qualifies for registration as a Medical or Dental Practitioner.

These internship training guidelines outline what the Medical Practitioners and Dentists Council (MP&DC) considers to be important areas that must be covered to ensure that adequate knowledge and skills have been acquired. They were developed and compiled by a team of experienced clinicians, teachers and other key stakeholders in medicine and dentistry.

The Council has made numerous legal strides to protect all interns during training. The Medical Practitioners and Dentists Act, CAP 253, Laws of Kenya defines internship training and lays down the framework for internship training in Kenya as a mandatory requirement prior to registration as a medical or dental practitioner.

It is important to also take note of "The Code of Professional Conduct and Discipline" which outlines the conduct expected of a doctor and subsequent disciplinary action in the event of any transgression of this code.

On behalf of the Council, I wish all users of these guidelines an exciting and fruitful time during the internship training period.
